

Rob Elkington, Head of Education Partnerships, Royal Shakespeare Company

羅伯·艾金頓 (皇家莎士比亞劇團教育合作總監)

Rob Elkington manages the Royal Shakespeare Company's national and international partnership programmes with schools, theatres and universities, a programme focussed on transforming the teaching and learning of Shakespeare. Recent projects include Shakespeare Unlocked (with the BBC), and Teaching Shakespeare, an online professional development resource for teachers created with Warwick University. Previously Rob was a Fellow on the Clore Leadership programme, and Director of Birmingham Creative Partnerships programme. He was also the founder of The Play House, which is a young people's theatre working across communities in Birmingham and the wider region, delivering over 1,000 performance and workshops sessions to groups of children and young people and involves nearly 25,000 participants in its activities.

羅伯·艾金頓現為皇家莎士比亞劇團的教育合作總監，負責管理劇團在英國和國際層面與不同學校、劇場和學府的伙伴計劃，致力改變舊有的莎士比亞作品教學方法。最近策劃的項目包括：與英國廣播公司合製的電視節目《Shakespeare Unlocked》以及與華威大學合作研發、為老師而設的網上專業教材《莎士比亞教學》。艾金頓曾為英國藝術領袖培訓計劃 Clore Leadership programme 的計劃學員，亦是伯明翰創意合作計劃的總監。他亦為伯明翰一青年教育劇場 The Play House 的創辦人，該劇團每年為 25,000 多位兒童及年青人舉辦逾 1000 場的演出及工作坊。
