Code of Practice on the Identity Card Number and other Personal Identifiers (Apr 2016)

Unless authorised by law, no data user may compulsorily require an individual to furnish his HKID Card number.

Before a data user seeks to collect from an individual his HKID Card number, the data user should consider whether there may be any less privacy-intrusive alternatives to the collection of such number, individual the option to choose any such alternative in lieu of

of the individual by another personal identifier of his choice; 1 number. 2.2.2 the furnishing of security by the individual to a user; A common example would be the furnishing of a location of the individual by someone known to the data user. Identification of a visitor to a building by the tenant in the Personal Data is a useful resource to trace back targeted audiences, but how can we as art practitioners collect and use personal information properly within a legal framework? HKAAA is honored to have Raina as the speaker for this workshop. She started with the 6 data protection principles and the rules of identity card number collection. With real cases studies, she further explained how to manage employment-related personal data. In the Q&A session, Raina also responded to participants' questions, especially on the protection of personal data and privacy under the pandemic situation. Once again, we are thankful to Raina and all participants making their time for the event.

Arts Capacity Development Funding Scheme Application for the 10th Round Funding Exercise

The 10th round funding exercise of the Arts Capacity Development Funding Scheme (ACDFS) is now open for applications. Designed and implemented by the Advisory Committee on Arts Development, the ACDFS calls for application on an annual basis and provides funding support to innovative and impactful proposals that contribute to the objectives of:

- capacity development of arts practitioners, arts groups, art forms and/or the arts sector
- programme/content development
- audience building
- arts education

To promote the convergence of arts and technology, a new category "Arts Technology" is introduced in the 10th round funding exercise of the ACDFS. Applicants are encouraged to present their artistic vision and aspiration through the use of technology in a creative manner. The ACDFS also continues to provide funding support for large-scale and cross-year arts and cultural initiatives and activities, covering various art forms and practices such as performing arts, visual/media arts, multi-disciplinary arts, community arts, arts education/appreciation and arts administration. Eligible applicants may submit applications online, by post or by hand before 6pm on 17 February 2021.
