

Knotting Space Project Intern

Description

Knotting Space (KNOT) is a newly launched cycle-based curatorial platform based at H Queen's in Central, Hong Kong. Through carefully curated pairings of art practitioners at varying scales, it spotlights collaborators and serves as a dynamic site for exhibitions, dialogues, and public programmes. The inaugural exhibition will start in mid-March to coincide with Art Basel Hong Kong.

The Intern will play an essential role throughout the first exhibition cycle, helping with important organisational tasks and daily operations on-site. They will gain hands-on experience in producing contemporary art exhibitions and programmes, working closely with diverse practitioners and artworks.

Responsibilities

- Assist the team with administrative and logistical tasks integral to the exhibition and accompanying programmes, such as handling documents, correspondences and deliveries.
- Support exhibition-related marketing and communications, including updating the social media and website, developing promotional materials, and translating written materials.
- Provide on-site support at the project space, which involves greeting visitors, and facilitating the execution of programmes.
- Assist the installation, presentation and deinstallation of artworks.

Qualifications

- University student or recent graduate in Fine Arts, Art History or related fields
- Passion for contemporary art is highly valued
- Self-motivated, responsible, organised, and good interpersonal and communication skills
- Strong command of written and spoken English and Chinese
- Proficiency in using Microsoft Office, Photoshop and Canva is preferred

Commitment

We are seeking candidates who can commit to at least 2 full days per week from March to May 2026. Availability of up to 5 full days required for the week of 23 - 29 March 2026. High performing candidates may have the opportunity to extend the internship.

Compensation

An hourly rate will be offered, commensurate with experience.
